The screens and sliding doors, still used in houses today, were some of the first architectural exports from Japan to gain popularity in the West. Tatami. While it arguably enters the realms of interior design and decorating, tatami is a big part of traditional Japanese architecture. Typically made of rice straw at the centre, with a covering of soft rush straw, tatami mats were used for a large part of the flooring in houses, providing a soft surface on which to sit and sleep (cushions and ...
